11th September 1913.

His Highness the Yuvaraja was pleased to show me the telegram he received from His Highness the Maharaja about the publication in the Mysore Patriot of Mr. Campbell's narrative of the trip. His Highness was equally surprised to see the account, which was intended only for private circulation among selected friends, appearing in the Press. Copies of the narrative were sent only to two gentlemen, namely, Messrs. M.V. Manjunadiah and Amble Narasimha-Iyengar with letters marked personal as it was thought that there was no harm in their being allowed to peruse it. It is impossible for old men like old women to maintain a secret especially when they are cautioned not to divulge it. Mr. Narasimha Iyengar committed the blunder of showing it to some of his friends and indiscreetly allowed it to be

Mysore State Archives and Oriental Collections
Document No. 93
No of Pages 3

Courtesy of the Special Collections
Research Center, North Carolina State University Libraries

subject and his reply are herewith sent for your information.

His Highness the Yuvaraja desires you to kindly explain to Mr. Campbell how Mr. Venkataramanayya secured a copy of the narrative and how much His Highness regrets its publication in his news paper.

Mirza M. Ismail, B.A., B.L., Huzur Secretary to H.H.
the Maharaja of Mysore, Bangalore.